A concise and complete overview of over 170 insurance markets across the globe

Axco’s CIMS Market Profiles deliver crucial non-life (P&C) and life and benefits insurance market information for over 170 territories worldwide. Profiles summarise the Axco Insurance Market Reports, as researched and written by Axco consultants who regularly visit each of the territories covered to secure vital insurance market information from local insurance professionals.

For each territory, CIMS profiles provide key information on local insurance regulation and tax compliance conditions, company registration and operating requirements, and market developments including market size, structure and trends. Summarised information on all major lines of non-life business, including property, motor and liability, is delivered along with information on life and benefits product lines such as healthcare and pensions.

CIMS profiles can also be customised to suit subscribers’ needs as a white label product; profiles can be adapted to integrate corporate branding and annotated according to each Axco client’s unique business requirements.

Key Benefits

1. Supply focused insurance market and compliance information in an easy-to-use and consistent format

2. Generate time-saving efficiencies with summarised market data for over 170 territories

3. Can be customised to integrate corporate branding and add company-specific information

“Axco’s policy of sending dedicated consultants to each individual market delivers a level of industry insight that is inaccessible through desk-top research and has established Axco’s reputation as the definitive source for insurance industry information.”

www.axcoinfo.com
Precise and concise market information, generating time-saving efficiencies

CIMS Market Profiles deliver insurance information on a market by market basis, focusing on regulation and tax compliance as well as summarised line of business detail to give subscribers a concise but complete overview of each market covered.

CIMS profiles are designed to offer a convenient information source that users can access to obtain an initial feel for markets and identify any local market trends, pitfalls or issues. Axco profiles can facilitate workflow and save time, as information is delivered with brevity and concision using a simple and consistent online format that enables users to view data by territory or topic, make comparisons, and identify trends across markets and market sectors.

The CIMS database is easy to use and users can be assured of their access to the most reliable and current insurance market data available, as all profiles are researched and written by insurance specialists, verified by dedicated checkers, and updated regularly.

Compliance: crucial information on requirements and conditions

Each profile provides an overview of a broad range of topics including insurance legislation, regulation, supervision and taxation. Up-to-date information on non-admitted positions, compulsory insurance classes, taxes and charges, types of licence, and company financial criteria can help subscribers to identify the compliance conditions of the market(s) in which they are operating and also highlight local conditions and barriers to market entry elsewhere. Axco sets out clearly the current practice in each market and the fines and penalties that may apply for contraventions of local legislation.

Markets: non-life (P&C), life & benefits, personal accident and healthcare

CIMS Market Profiles report on both the non-life (P&C) and life and benefits markets of over 170 territories, with each profile providing a succinct outline of local market developments, including insurance penetration and market size, structure and trends.

Summarised information for all major lines of non-life business is also provided, including property, motor, liability, marine, and aviation. For life and healthcare markets, CIMS profiles supply information on pensions, employee benefits, individual life assurance and social security schemes.

Adapt to carry corporate branding and annotations

The concise global insurance market information in CIMS Market Profiles can also be annotated according to clients’ unique business requirements, with company-specific information and related web pages and links added to the information provided by Axco.

Profiles can be customised for distribution among clients and prospects, integrating corporate branding to enhance corporate identity.

Features of CIMS Market Profiles
- Customise to filter data by territory or topic, with multiple topics or territories viewable simultaneously
- Customise with corporate branding
- Annotate according to business requirements

Axco Insurance Information Services Ltd
Email: axco@axcoinfo.com